Program Committee Notes 2018-2019

The 2018-2019 program year was a balance of paid speakers and relying on the wealth of information of the membership.

The guest speakers spoke on subjects as varied as migratory birds to old tools. Bruce Crawford spoke about companion planting of woodies with a nice slide show and Kris Berry spoke about unusual annuals for containers and the garden. We learned a lot about the Botany of Beer while we all had a wonderful time at Heather Gallager's beautiful barn with our husbands and friends.

The Judges for the fall flower show stayed and spoke on how they judged certain classes and how they decided on the awarding the blue ribbon. The passers spoke about grooming while the judges judged. December brought Wreath making Lynn Gibbons. Everyone went home with a great wreath and plenty of holiday goodies from the sale.

Patty Minehart received a snow day but she is on the program for 2019-2020 and will speak about Women and Conservation. Our Trip to Maryland to see gardens was cancelled unexpectedly but we picked up the piece and met at Cheryl Cheston's for lunch Wit and Wisdom and a secret garden tour.

Everyone on the committee worked hard and brought good ideas.
